

Relationship Tip of the Day

Happily Married MAN

Dear Wives,

A woman wants her husband to “behave like a man” but still treats him like a child! She corrects every misstep, complains when he falls short, and uses belittling language to point to his weakness, sometimes even to others.

Trust me as someone who has been married more than 50 years. This doesn’t work. Either you will end up with a beaten down whimpy baby who can’t function without your direction or face a revolution as he resists your every suggestion.

No one likes to be told what to do, but men are especially resistant. It’s in their DNA. If you want your husband to behave like a man, treat him like one. Stop telling him to pick up after himself and to do his chores. Forsake punishments and manipulation. Instead of demanding love, give it.

If you believe there is a God in heaven, then stop trying to be Him. God will do a much better job at improving your hubby than you ever could imagine.

Will your life really be ruined if the garbage doesn’t get emptied on time? Don’t worry about it. Just let it pile up and say nothing about it. He will eventually, on his own without you coaching and complaining, take it out. Do you need him to tell you to finish folding the laundry? No, you do not. Consider what I am saying, someone who has “been there and done that.”

Sincerely,

The Wife of a Happily Married MAN

The wise woman builds her house, But the foolish pulls it down with her hands.
