He Will Give His Angels Charge Over Thee¹

I want to publicly thank God for protecting me. It was a beautiful day here, and I went to pick up two of my grandchildren from school. My grandson, Levi, arrived first and asked if I'd like to play tetherball with him.

Well, of course, I said yes, and since I was a bit of a tetherball expert in elementary school, I was teaching him strategies as we were playing.

I showed him how to lunge forward to make a good punch and then switch directions to run back to keep the ball going (are you holding your breath for me yet?). As I demonstrated my skills and went back to hit the ball, my foot slid out of the back of my shoe causing me to go backwards while my feet went out from under me. I rolled backward into a partial somersault over my left shoulder which, at the time, felt like slow motion.

I could not stop the fall sufficiently due to the angle and speed of my roll which probably kept me from breaking a wrist. Amazingly, my head never touched the ground...which I cannot imagine.

I felt myself hit the asphalt, yes, asphalt, but not on my hip...somewhere between my hip and tailbone...so neither of them was broken. I ended up facing sideways sitting up on my bottom feeling a bit dazed. My poor grandson saw the whole thing and immediately came to help me asking if I was ok.

I sat there for a few minutes moving each area of my body which was traumatized and was relieved to realize nothing seemed broken. The only real pain I had was on my foot where it had slipped out of my shoe and slid on the asphalt. There was a tiny cut in my heel with a teeny tiny spot of blood on it, otherwise, it was fine. Even my ankle seemed fine. A lady who had also observed my shame, came over to ask if I needed help, and I realized I couldn't get up off the ground by myself, so she helped me.

I walked away wondering when the endorphins would fade, but the day went on and I barely had any soreness and no bruises. I am so thankful that somehow I was spared what could have been a lengthy stay in the hospital with multiple breaks and even a concussion. I didn't know I could still do a summersault of any kind, let alone a forced one. The only sad thing is that no one got a video of it. It had to be hilarious along with being completely miraculous. Thank-You, Jesus!!!

Can you recall an incident in which you probably had angelic intervention? Read Psalm 91 and thank God for His protection.

Psalm 91 KJV

He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

² I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

³ Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

⁴ He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

⁵ Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

⁶ Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

⁷ A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

⁸ Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

⁹ Because thou hast made the LORD, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

¹⁰ There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

¹¹ For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

¹² They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

¹³ Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

¹⁴ Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

¹⁵ He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

¹⁶ With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.
